

Eden Park Nursery and Primary School Curriculum IMPACT

How will we know our curriculum is having a good impact?

Children will leave Eden Park academically, mentally and socially ready for life. Through our school values, children will have developed their character and be equipped with the essential tools needed to thrive in modern Britain and the wider world.

Class teachers routinely evaluate the progress of pupils within and across lessons using the curriculum frameworks to make judgements. They use this information to analyse how effectively pupils are achieving or exceeding expectations and to adapt their planning accordingly.

We also evaluate the impact of our curriculum through pre and post KAHOOT! quizzes; these allow us to see what progress has been made across the learning enquiry. In addition, the Head of School, often accompanied by the Subject Leader, will talk to children and evaluate the impact of their learning. Children will be asked to talk about their learning, use correct tier 2 and tier 3 vocabulary, share their high quality outcome and also present their books.

Lesson pop-ins, book scrutiny, moderation of standards and staff development meetings also allow us to evaluate the impact of curriculum.

The impact of the curriculum is also noted through the comments we receive from parents. Our most recent parent survey (2021), reported the following:

The "real test" of life at Eden Park is how it prepares children for "real life". Seeing my eldest daughter transition to Secondary School has shown me what a fantastic primary education she has received and how it has prepared her successfully for the next stage of her academic career. From the Nursery building blocks, through to Year 6 during a global pandemic, Eden Park has been full of wonderful experiences and opportunities.

My child is always happy and excited to come to school and has had a wonderful start to this year.

My children are proud to be members of the school community and despite a tricky 2 years with Covid, we are pleased with the progress that's been made.

My child has come on in leaps and bounds since starting school and loves it; he especially loves phonics, numbers and PE.

Teachers always have high expectations and support my child to reach his potential. Great outcomes giving parents an opportunity to see children's learning in creative ways.

The staff have always been very supportive and attentive to my child, consistently meeting their needs. Thanks to all Eden Park school staff who are there looking after, supporting and teaching my children. You are all 5 stars!

I feel incredibly lucky to have this school, all the teachers have been wonderful right from Tadpoles through to Year 6.

This school is amazing, they do wonders with my 3 children; they deal with my poorly child well.

Teachers make sure the children are learning to their best ability whilst making the learning fun and interesting. It was great to come into school again and look through her work.
