

British Values at Eden Park ~ Year 3

British Values

Democracy

During RE we will be listening carefully to others and voicing our own opinions when we learn about other religions (Hinduism and Muslim).

In music, we will share ideas and express ourselves during our performance.

In art, we understand differences of opinions and respect the subjectiveness of art.

During geography, we will learn that not all countries are Democracy and understand how government types may impact on the state of living.

British Values

Rule of Law

We will understand that rules are there to protect us when we visit Brixham during our school trip.

We understand that different religions follow different rules.

We understand the process of a fair test in science, discussing that changing variables will inevitably change the result of scientific discoveries.

We understand that everyone is responsible for creating a safe and healthy environment when we visit a local beach for a beach clean.

British Values

Individual Liberty

In writing, we consider the lives of others who have taken risks and exercised their rights and freedoms when we read 'Great Women Who Changed the World'.

We understand how to keep safe and healthy (both online and in person) during RSE.

During our show, the children are encouraged to test themselves by taking on challenges that can make them feel uncomfortable as they are new but are still in a safe environment. We understand that comfort zones are to be challenged as this causes us to grow.

In RSE, children learn how to exercise their rights and freedoms within the context of feeling safe and understanding that their choices have consequences.

British Values

Mutual Respect

During Geography, we will understand that life is not the same for everyone when we explore different countries in Africa.

We will understand that actions have consequences during our school trip in Brixham.

During art, children develop an appreciation of different styles and techniques and learn the subjectiveness of art.

During our performance, the children will explore different musicals and genres of music and understand that many musicals were written about people with a different background to us.

British Values

Tolerance

In MFL we will show tolerance to different languages and cultures during our Spanish.

During art, we will respect the opinions of others and respect that art is individual.

In Geography, when making travel vlogs, children are taught to compromise and be tolerant of the opinions of their peers.

In Geography, the children develop their understanding of tolerance through learning about the plethora of cultures in Africa.

In writing, when studying The Great Women Who Changed the World, the children learn that your status or background should not negatively impact your life choices and opportunities. This will specifically make children aware of prejudices and discrimination, specially referring to genders and ethnicities.
